

Revisiting Dear Zoo

To enrich children's experiences we revisited previous learning to see if the children can recall the story. We have done different activities around Dear Zoo for the past two weeks. We sorted the animals to their correct boxes and then made prints of the animals using paint. We also added pegs with different materials to develop our fine motor skills in the paint. The children were able to explore characteristics and similarities of the animals. We also found some of the animals in ice and went on an animal hunt in the secret garden.

We have the right to learn and foster a love for books as it all begins in the early years.

Azryah "Rod Campbell wrote the book"

Beatiel: "Camels live in the desert, there is water in the hump"

Arielle "The dog was perfect, we kept him".

Jazarah "Lots of animals had to go back to the zoo. The elephant was too big and the giraffe was too tall"

Simon "Lion, Snake"

Jaylen "It's a snake...ssssss"

“
“Outdoors is different to 'indoors' and that is exactly why it matters to children” - Jan White